

The story so far ...

THE PAST

The company originally started as “Peter Miller Entertainment Services” in the early 90’s to serve the entertainment needs of the discerning bride and groom. Amazingly, we still get mail addressed to this name, even though the name ceased operation more than 10 years ago.

Gradually moving from supplying MCs, disc jockeys, singers as well as lighting and sound equipment, it became obvious that it would be more beneficial to offer each couple a single Master of Ceremonies service and let the other agencies handle the rest. However, that single service had to be the very best and 1st Class.

From that decision, a niche industry was started.

In 1998, Pete Miller won the ‘MC of the Year’ award at the annual ‘Australian Bridal Industry Awards (ABIA) and in 2000, the business was nominated as a finalist in the Suncorp Parramatta Business Awards. (see the respective LOGOS at the end of this page)

THE PRESENT

Here we are at the 2nd decade of a new millennium offering the discriminating bride and groom a service unmatched by any other company.

A WEDDING MC HOTLINE is proud of the excellent reputation we have as a leader in the wedding industry; not just in Australia were the concept originated, but throughout the world.

Here’s the reason why we earned that reputation:

OUR PHILOSOPHY

When you hire an MC from A WEDDING MC HOTLINE you are getting the finest there is.

No other MC service comes close to the attention to detail, the experience and advice that comes included with the investment.

We have concentrated on teaching each MC to always focus on the needs of the bride and groom, their guests and the other wedding professionals.

We have trained the MCs to use both the right and left sides of their brain at the same time. This means they can be equally organised and entertaining.

THE FUTURE

We feel we are at the beginning of a new social trend.

The old traditional choice of using a family-friend as the default MC has had both its triumphs and its tragedies.

The history of A WEDDING MC HOTLINE :: famous of all the right reasons

Our mission is to remove the 'unfortunate accident' that has coloured some great wedding receptions by offering the bride and groom a wide-selection of top-quality multi-lingual MCs - so they just relax and know that everything will be looked after.
